Investment Process

Opportunistic Federally Tax-Exempt Income Strategy – A flexible approach is used in an attempt to capture the most attractive opportunities caused by the inherent inefficiencies of the Municipal Market.

- Initial screening factors include interest rate expectations and credit stability.
- The manager identifies and attempts to capitalize on market dislocations and relative value inefficiencies.
- Fundamental credit research seeks to identify bonds mispriced relative to credit strength.
- Research team independently reviews and conducts final credit analysis on all securities prior to purchase.
- Portfolio duration and average rating is structured to be in line with the managers' market outlook.

Quantitative Overlay Strategy

Managed independently by Mount Lucas Management, the team employs a proven interest rate management strategy in an attempt to capture returns associated with broad changes in interest rate and credit cycles (typically difficult periods for municipals).

Important Risk Information

The Fund is a new mutual fund and has a limited history of operations for investors to evaluate. The Fund may be non-diversified and the value and/or volatility of a single issuer could have a greater impact on Fund performance. The Fund may be susceptible to an increased risk of loss due to adverse occurrences affecting the Fund more than the market as a whole, because the Fund's investments are concentrated. Some securities held by the Fund may be difficult to sell, or illiquid, particularly during times of market turmoil. There is a risk that issuers will not make payments on fixed income securities held by the Fund, resulting in losses. Issuers credit quality could be lowered if issuers financial condition changes and there is a risk that the issuer may default on its obligations. Legislative changes can adversely affect the value of the Fund's portfolio. Legislative risks including legal, tax, and other regulatory changes could occur over time and may adversely affect the Fund. The Fund may encounter derivative risk. The use of derivatives instruments involves risks different from, or possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in securities and other traditional investments. Changes in interest rates can also create risks for the Fund. Typically, a rise in interest rates causes a decline in value in fixed income securities. The Fund is subject to regulatory change and tax risks; changes to current rules could increase costs associated with investment in the Fund. These factors may affect the value of your investment. All investments involve risks, including possible loss of principal, there is no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.
